CIRCULAR : 14/2016

Date : 26-12-2016

In terms of Circular dtd. 18.12.2000 read with Circular dtd. 20.01.2001 of the then Secretary of erstwhile WBSEB, guidelines for deduction of leave for late attendance during a calendar month was clearly spelt out. Subsequently, upon introduction of SAP-ERP system, the period for consideration of such deduction of leave was changed and the period of consideration is to be considered as 16th of the previous month to 15th of the current payroll month, which was communicated vide Circular No.: 13/2015 dtd. 24.09.2015 of Director (HR) keeping all other terms unchanged. As per this Circular, one day's Casual Leave (CL) is getting deducted for every 5 days' late attendance and if there is no Casual Leave in credit of the concerned employee, one day's Earned Leave (EL) will be deducted from his balance for each 5 days' late attendance during the above mentioned period. This practice is being followed till date.

However, a question has arisen how deduction of CL or EL will be made when there is no Casual Leave/Earned Leave existing in credit to an employee.

The matter has been examined in detail and after careful examination, it has been decided that, in case where no Leave (Casual Leave/Earned Leave) stands in credit of an employee, it shall be treated as Leave Without Pay (LWP) & accordingly, one (01) day's salary/remuneration shall be deducted from the monthly salary/remuneration of the employee for that payroll month.

All concerned are enjoined upon to strictly adhere to the above instructions until further order. This order takes retrospective effect from 01.03.2016.
